North Country National Scenic Trail - Overview and in Michigan

The North Country Trail (NCT) is the longest National Scenic Trail in the nation traversing from Vermont to North Dakota. Yet, it's not nearly as well known as some of the others. Which may be a good thing. Learn more about the NCT in general and specifically Michigan, along with what it has to offer and how you can get involved. There are plenty of various volunteer opportunities and not just trail specific tasks. Or find out how you can explore the trail, attend an event and see where the trail takes you.

Kenny Wawsczyk has worked as the Michigan Regional Trail Coordinator (RTC) for the North Country Trail Association for the past seven plus years. Prior to that he worked seasonally with the Forest Service as the Trail Crew Leader for seven years. As an RTC he works closely with volunteers, land managers and partners across the NCT in Michigan. Various tasks include designing new trail, construction, working with GIS, permits, grants and trainings.
