

Scott Gritter

Fall Paddling in Ontario's McGregor Bay

Did you know that there are some 30,000 islands in Lake Huron? Come find out what it's like to paddle among those in the McGregor Bay, just outside Kilarney Provincial Park. Scott and 3 friends spend 8 days exploring this beautiful area within the Georgian Bay during fall's spectacular color show.

Scott has been exploring the outdoors for over 30 years through numerous day and overnight canoe trips, leading week-long backpacking trips, and finding new rustic camping experiences with his family.

